

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- Do you know anyone who is famous?
- Who is this person?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about a key life event.
- I can ask and talk about what people do and what people are doing.
- I can report about things, actions, events, or people.
- I can start a conversation with a stranger.

Let's Explore!

John is a celebrity! Let's hear his interview!

* In popular culture, a "celebrity" can be anyone, not just a movie star.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Interviewer: Excuse me. Can I take two minutes of your time?
John: Yes, of course.
Interviewer: I work for a radio station. I'm preparing a program about the tourist season. Why are you visiting Belize?
John: I grew tired of the cold! I'm from Boston!
Interviewer: What do you do here?
John: I work on a cruise ship. This week we are exploring this remarkable city!
Interviewer: Where did you go?
John: I took my group on the Belize River Challenge. It was a memorable experience!
Interviewer: When was the first time you went on a boat race?
John: 4 days ago! We didn't win, but we received handmade gifts. They commemorate the legacy of the Maya civilization.
Interviewer: How did you feel?
John: It was a life-changing event.
Interviewer: Where are you traveling to next?
John: I'm leaving for Mexico next week. I'm having the time of my life!

Let's Practice!

John has an amazing time in Belize. It was a memorable trip! What happens now?

Instructions: Read the dialogue again. Select the sentences that are true.

John grew tired of working on a cruise ship. John grew tired of the cold in Boston. John is exploring Belize City next week. John is exploring Belize City this week. John's group won the first prize in the race. John's group received handmade gifts. The race was a life-changing event. The race did not change John's life.

Let's Practice!

Let's review some useful sentences.

Instructions: Find and fix the mistake. Each sentence has 1 mistake.

1. I am working for a radio station.
2. I'm prepare a program about the tourist season.
3. They commemorated the legacy of the Maya civilization.
4. I'm leave for Mexico next week.
5. I'm doing the time of my life!

Extension Activity

You are an interviewer, and you want to know about a life-changing event in your partner's life!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write an interview with your partner.
- Think of a life-changing event or make one up.
- Ask 4-5 questions about the event. Use wh- questions.
- Read the dialogue aloud with a partner.
- Switch roles with your partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I do an interview.

☐ ☐

I ask personal questions about a past life event.

☐ ☐

I answer questions as the interviewee.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- handmade (adjective): made by hand not machine
e.g. You can buy handmade goods at the market.
- tourist season (noun): a popular time of the year for tourists
e.g. July is our tourist season.
- to grow tired of (verb): to become bored with something e.g. I grew tired of London and its gray skies
- remarkable (adjective): important; easy to remember
e.g. The Mayan culture is remarkable.
- legacy (noun): something received from past generations
e.g. The River Challenge celebrates the Mayan legacy in Belize.
- to commemorate (verb): to celebrate; to honor
e.g. The race commemorates the Maya tradition.
- civilization (noun): the culture and history of a group of people e.g. The Mayan civilization was fascinating.
- life-changing (adjective): very important; an event that changes your life
e.g. The River Challenge was a life-changing experience.
- memorable (adjective): something you remember for a long time
e.g. The trip was memorable!
- I'm having the time of my life! (expression): I'm having a lot of fun!
e.g. The Belize River Challenge is exciting. I'm having the time of my life!

Learning Points

Talking About Events in the Past

Events that happen in your life are called life events. Life events are usually important to remember.

You use expressions like life-changing or Did you know that ... ? to describe key life events.

You use the Simple Past tense to talk about a finished event or a specific time in the past.

You can form the regular form of the Simple Past tense by adding -ed or -ied to the verb.

Some verbs are irregular. Their Simple Past form doesn't end in -ed or -ied, like came or was or won.

You use wh-questions to ask about past events.

Examples:

• Ann: When was the first time you went on a boat race?

Bob: I participated in the Belize River Challenge. It was a life-changing experience.

Learning Points

Talking About Events in the Present

You use the Present Simple tense to talk about a routine or a specific action that happens regularly.

You can use expressions of frequency like every day or always with the Present Simple.

You use the Present Continuous tense to talk about an action happening right now. You can also use the Present Continuous to talk about events that are happening soon. You make the Present Continuous with the verb to be + -ing.

You use wh-questions to ask about life events in the present.

Present Simple	Present Continuous
The race commemorates the Maya tradition.	People are commemorating the Maya heritage today.
Sally travels every month for work.	Sally is traveling through Europe right now.
Peter spends a lot of time in the office.	Vanessa is spending the summer in San Francisco.

Examples:

- Bob: Where are you traveling to next?
- Ann: I'm leaving for Mexico tomorrow.

