Let's Start!

On your mark, get set, go! Who won the race?

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- How often do you take part in races or competitions?
- Do you like to compete? Why or why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about celebrations and customs.
- I can ask and talk about what people do and what people are doing.
- I can report about things, actions, events, or people.

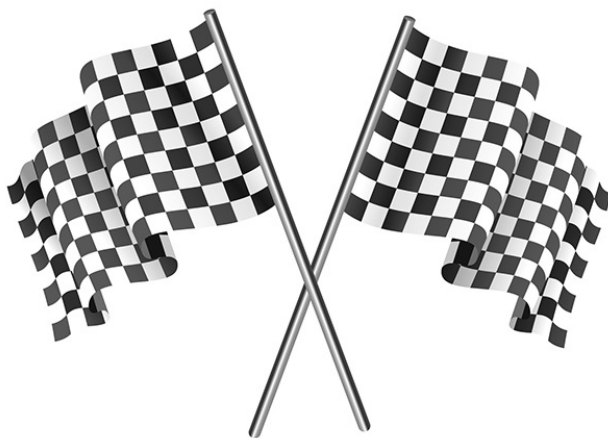

Let's Explore!

It was an epic race! Did John and his team win? Let's find out!

* "Epic" is an adjective you use in informal situations to talk about something amazing and exciting.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Peter: So how did it go, John? Did you win?
John: Are you kidding? We came in last!
Peter: What happened?
John: Well, our boat capsized a few times. Then we lost a few paddles. It was epic!
Peter: What did you do? You are usually very competitive.
John: We just went along for the experience! That's what this competition was all about!
Peter: You sound happy. That's good!
John: Yes. It was awesome. We got the consolation prize!
Peter: What was it?
John: Local handicrafts. They commemorate the Maya and their fascinating civilization.
Peter: Amazing. You must be tired!
John: A little. It took four days to get to the finish line.
Peter: So what happens now?
John: We are staying here for one more night. Then we're taking the bus back to Belize City tomorrow.
Peter: Talk soon! I'm going to a meeting now!

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

Present Simple vs. Present Continuous

You use the Simple Present tense to talk about a routine or a specific action that happens regularly. You use the Simple Present to describe a scene, or give personal information. You can use expressions of frequency like every day or always with the Simple Present.

You use the Present Continuous tense to talk about a current event or action happening right now. You can also use the Present Continuous to talk about events that are happening soon. You make the Present Continuous with the verb to be + -ing. You can use expressions like right now or later with the Present Continuous.

Present Simple	Present Continuous
The race commemorates the Maya tradition.	The Indigenous people are commemorating their heritage today.
I stay at home on weekends.	I'm staying here one more night.
I take the bus to work every morning.	We're taking the bus back to Belize City tomorrow morning.

Learning Points

The Simple Past tense

You use the Simple Past tense to talk about a finished event or a specific time in the past.

You can form the regular form of the Simple Past tense by adding ed to the verb.

Some verbs are irregular. Their Past Simple form doesn't end in -ed or -ied, like came or was or won.

Verb	Past Tense with -ed ending
capsize	capsized
happen	happened
commemorate	commemorated
finish	finished

Verb	Past Tense with irregular ending
come	came
lose	lost
be	was
go	went
get	got
take	took
